The Teller County Fire Chiefs Association, in conjunction with the local, county, and state public safety partners listed below, is pleased to offer this endorsement of the efforts of Wellness Wishes to make our regional emergency services training facility become a reality. This facility will fill a much-needed void for our fire, emergency medical services and law enforcement first responders throughout the region, involving twenty agencies and organizations and numbering hundreds of dedicated first responder professionals.

Wellness Wishes is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization based out of Columbus, Ohio, working nationwide. Through our four areas of impact we provide programs and services to the communities, as well as assist in funding other non-profits, philanthropic endeavors and community enrichment projects. One of our areas of impact is First Responders, and through our First Responder Ambassador, Greg Brown, we identify projects we can assist in funding for first responder agencies and their areas or regions. We are thrilled to have the opportunity to assist Fire Chief Tyler Lambert and the Northeast Teller Fire Protection District oversee a collaborative project that provides an all-hazards training facility for twenty area departments and organizations. Through strategy, design, implementation, a management and funding of the project, Wellness Wishes aims to assist Chief Lambert with his goals of providing a state-of-the-art training facility for the Teller County all hazards emergency services region.
